USA (5) Former Inspector General of the US Department of Defence and former executive with Blackwater and foreign policy advisor to Donald Trump, Joseph E. Schmitz is a Knight of #SMOM #SovereignMilitaryOrderofMalta #Crusades #maltesecross #KnightsHospitaller

Joseph Edward Schmitz (born August 28, 1956) is an American lawyer, former inspector general of the United States Department of Defense and a former executive with Blackwater Worldwide. After working as a watchdog at the Pentagon for three and a half years, Schmitz resigned to return to the private sector. Although allegations questioning his stewardship of the inspector general's office surfaced nine months after his resignation, a high-level review board, the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency, cleared him of all wrongdoing in 2006.[1] He was named one of Donald Trump's foreign policy advisors for his 2016 presidential campaign.[2]

Scahill also reported in his 2008 book, Blackwater: The Rise of the World's Most Powerful Mercenary Army, that on his official biography Schmitz proudly listed his membership in the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, "a Christian militia formed in the eleventh century, before the first Crusades, with the mission of defending 'territories that the Crusaders had conquered from the Muslims.'"
